Seizure of N. Y. Tugs Indicated; Steel Prices May Be Raised; Tie-up to Help W. U. Workers

O'Dwyer's Plan Is Refused

Let Truman Run 'em Is Boatmen's Reply to Threatened Seizure of Tugboats

Other Disputes

Consider Steel Raise as Settlement; Aid Is Set for W. U. Strikers

Rejection of Mayor William O'Dwyer's proposal for settlement of the New York Harbor tugboat strike indicated government seizure of the transportation business, while a Washington conference continued in an effort to settle the steel industry wage dispute and a two-hour work stoppage threatened for Monday by workers in vital New York services in support of striking Western Union employees.

Let Truman Steer Tugs

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Government seizure of strike-bound tugboat operation in New York Harbor was forecast by city and federal spokesmen unless a last-minute accord was reached to halt the day-old tieup of commercial shipping in the world's busiest port.

Members of the striking United Marine Division of the A.F.L. International Longshoremen's Association rejected last night a settlement program offered by Mayor William O'Dwyer.

Warnings of imminent government action were greeted by cries, "Let Truman steer the tugs."

Lester Capl. William Bradley, former president of the United Marine Division, said the 3,500 striking employees would refuse to work under governmental control.

Meanwhile, on another section of the city's labor front, the Greater New York C.I.O. Council, which claims to represent 600,000 union members in the New York Metropolitan area, called a two-hour work stoppage for Monday of all C.I.O. members in the city except those engaged in "vital" services.

The demonstration was called in support of the month-old strike of the C.I.O. American Communications Association against the Western Union Company. Exempt from participation are C.I.O. members engaged in light, heat, power, transit, newspaper, news service and health occupations.

Fear Grave Crisis
The tugmen's rejection of O'Dwyer's plan came after a message from the mayor was read declaring that continuation of the strike would "cause a grave crisis in the food and fuel supply for the city of New York and will necessarily endanger the health of the city's residents."

Following the meeting, the mayor's labor adviser, Edward C. Maguire declared:

"The needs of the people of the city are so critical that present conditions cannot be permitted to continue."

A Labor Department spokesman in Washington, who declined use of his name, then said he was advised that negotiations between the union and the New York Tugboat Exchange, the operators, had "broken down" and that federal seizure was probable.

O'Dwyer's Plan
O'Dwyer's plan included provision for a 22½ per cent wage increase for lower paid employees and a 10 per cent boost for higher wage bracket workers; a second week's vacation after five years experience; elimination of Sunday work; and contract duration to December 3, 1947, with provision for possible working conditions changes in 1947.

New York Tugs Idled by Strike

Idle tug boats, belonging to the Carroll Towing Company, are tied up at their berths in New York as a result of strike called by Local 333 United Marine Division; International Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.) which is involved in wage dispute with the New York Tugboat Exchange.

Assembly Passes $20 a Week Bill To Help Veterans

Senate Now Considers Legislation Aimed to Help Ex-G.I.s Hit by Strikes

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—An assembly-approved bill providing unemployment insurance of $20 a week for war veterans idled by strikes was before the senate today for expected approval.

The assembly unanimously passed the Pillion-Burney measure last night and sent it to the senate.

Another bill, recommended by Governor Dewey, permitting the State Parole Board at its discretion to discharge war veterans from parole also received unanimous assembly approval and went to the senate.

Advocated by Assembly Speaker Oswald D. Pillion, the Pillion-Burney bill would correct a condition under which veterans, out of work because of industrial strike, are not eligible for unemployment insurance. Non-veterans can get up to $21 a week when jobless because of strikes.

The measure provides that after a veteran has been idle for seven weeks he is eligible for unemployment insurance.

(By The Associated Press)
Approximately 1,400,000 idle in nation's labor disputes.

Shipping—Federal seizure of strike-bound tugboat operations in New York Harbor forecast by city and federal officials as striking A.F.L. workers reject Mayor O'Dwyer's settlement program.

Communications—Two hour work stoppage for all C.I.O. members in New York city except those in "vital" services, called for next Monday by Greater New York C.I.O. Council, claiming membership of 600,000, in support of month old strike by 7,000 C.I.O. Western Union employees.

Wicks Bill Favors N. Y. Transit Workers

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—The Senate Public Service Committee has reported favorably a bill to prohibit the laying off of any employee of the New York city transit system as a result of a shutdown of the city's own power plants and purchase of electric energy from a utility company.

The bill was introduced by Senator Arthur H. Wicks, Kingston Republican, at the request of Local 21193, American Federation of Municipal Transit Workers (A.F.L.), a union of employees of the city's subway system.

The potential employment problem arises out of a proposal that New York city buy its electric power for its subway system from the Consolidated Edison Company.

The bill provides that employees who would lose their jobs because of such action would have to be given other positions of equal responsibility and pay in the transit system.

Ulster County's Income Tax Share Set at $14,704.84

Treasurer A. Cashdollar Receives Money From State for Last Half of Year 1945

County Treasurer Albert Cashdollar has received from the state comptroller a total of $14,704.84, being the share of state income taxes for the last half of 1945 returned to the towns of the county.

An estimated one-third of the town lies in the 42 square miles of wooded hills and valleys in Connecticut and Westchester counties, N. Y., which has been recommended as headquarters of the 51-nation organization.

At nearby Stamford, which also lies in the area, the Stamford Hills Association, composed of affected property owners, also met tonight in a protest session.

While the Stamford meeting will not result in a formal position by the town fathers, it is expected by the meeting may give an indication of the attitude of the community's residents.

Opposition to the headquarters recommendation—which also has been voiced by the Westchester county communities involved—lies in the following points:

That town officials and taxpayers should have been consulted by the site committee on their attitude.

That other sites, equally suitable, could have been found that

Rain and Sleet Is Forecast for Upstate

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—Most upstate New York today shook off the zero spray from a week-end cold wave and awaited rain and sleet, bracketed with rising temperatures for the next two days.

The U. S. Weather Bureau warned of highway-hazardous sleet for late this afternoon and tonight in most sections. The temperature, which dipped below zero again last night, is expected to hover around the 20 mark tonight. It will be warmer tomorrow.

After a predicted dip Thursday, the temperature probably will climb again, converting more possible snow into rain or sleet, the bureau said.

Thunderstorms reported 15 below zero over night. Other sub-zero readings: Glens Falls 22, Fort Plain 8, Utica 3, Rome 4, Schenectady 3, and Albany and Syracuse 2.

Protests on U. N. O. Site Not to Affect Report

Greenwich Is Preparing For Stormy Session Tonight; Report on Hyde Park Area

London, Feb. 5 (AP)—The U.N.O. site inspection committee, apparently ignoring protests from some residents of the communities involved, planned to submit to the general assembly today its report recommending the Greenwich-Stamford area as the permanent headquarters of the World Peace Organization.

Dr. Stoyan Gavrilovic of Yugoslavia, chairman of the committee said the protests had not affected the report, which is expected to be referred to the assembly's committee on permanent headquarters.

"The general spirit is good; but there are people everywhere who make a noise," Gavrilovic said of the complaints received from Connecticut. "We expected that."

He said that many residents of the Connecticut-New York area had told him they were "delighted" with the selection, but that protests from Greenwich were understandable because people "do not like to lose their homes or their clubs or their hunting grounds."

The report recommends that persons living in the zone be allowed to continue residence, unless their is immediate need for their buildings and land, and Dr. Gavrilovic said he would ask the committee on permanent headquarters to discuss this phase of the matter.

Other possibilities, he said, are that no one except United Nations personnel may be allowed to live within the zone; and that part of the area may be restricted to United Nations personnel, but that other persons may be allowed to live in a "buffer" belt three or four miles wide as "a protection against encroachment."

"Stormy" Session Ahead

Greenwich, Conn., Feb. 5 (AP)—Leaders of elements for and against inclusion of this community in the area recommended as the world capital of the United Nations marshalled their forces today for an expected stormy session of a town meeting at which the town's official stand will be taken.

While storms of protest have arisen over the U.N.O.'s site inspection group's recommendation, most town officials have remained silent pending a session of tonight's town meeting.

An estimated one-third of the town lies in the 42 square miles of wooded hills and valleys in Connecticut and Westchester counties, N. Y., which has been recommended as headquarters of the 51-nation organization.

At nearby Stamford, which also lies in the area, the Stamford Hills Association, composed of affected property owners, also met tonight in a protest session.

Interim Committee Approves U.N.O. Site

London, Feb. 5 (AP)—The 13-member United Nations interim committee today approved a recommendation to put the organization's permanent home in the Stamford-Greenwich-Westchester area of Connecticut and New York.

Australia protested, still urging San Francisco for the site.

Col. W. R. Hodgson, the Australian delegate, said after the closed meeting that he would ask rejection of the recommendation tomorrow when it is presented to the full 51-member committee on headquarters.

He added that he would put up a fight for San Francisco.

The Stamford-Greenwich-Westchester area was recommended by the U.N.O. Site Inspection Committee.

First Jury Picked Under New System For County Court

Efficiency of Procedure Is Reflected in High Percentage of Attendance

The first trial jury drawn under the new system of selection through a commissioner of jurors, sat in County Court Monday, when County Judge John M. Cashin convened the January term. The system was adopted last fall.

The jurors appearing were the first to be drawn from the new list. Official sources believe the new system will prove far more effective than the old.

Of the thirty-six jurors summoned for trial work all but one showed up, that juror being out of the county and not served. Of the 35 who appeared 14 asked to be excused for various reasons, but some of them sought only temporary excuse because of some immediate necessity. Those were excused to return at a specific date in the future and only nine jurors were excused from service for the term.

Of late it has been almost impossible to get a trial or grand jury. Additional panels were required and the grand jury has frequently had its deliberations held up until additional persons were summoned because of the number of the original panel who presented legal excuses.

Commissioner of jurors, Frank McCardie, has sent out questionnaires to all prospective jurors and as a result of investigations and interviews has eliminated such persons as probably would not be able to serve. The result is indicated when 24 out of the original panel of 36 jurors summoned were in a position to serve as trial jurors.

No cases were ready on the civil calendar and jurors were excused until Monday, February 11, at 2 o'clock. At that time the ready civil cases will again be called.

Syria and Lebanon Ask Withdrawal of Troops in Levant

Security Council, Still Snarled Over Soviet Veto, Faces Another Hot Issue

London, Feb. 5 (AP)—Syria and Lebanon handed the United Nations Security Council a new explosive issue today, asking withdrawal of all British and French troops from the Levant, while the council still sought to unravel the tangle resulting from a Russian attempt to use the veto power in the Soviet-British disagreement over Greece.

The veto issue, raised for the first time before the council, blocked action on the Greek question. It also required the council to decide whether Britain and Russia could vote on the question of whether British troops in Greece were endangering world peace, as charged by Russia. The British have demanded complete exonerations of their actions in Greece.

Syria and Lebanon, former French mandates in the strategic Middle East, based their case on the claim that British and French troops have remained in their territories "many months" after the end of the war with Germany and Japan and that "some of these troops have been a constant menace to the peace and security in this region."

A meeting of representatives of the five major powers—Britain, Russia, France, China and the United States—was called at the British foreign office today specifically to discuss the world food situation and possible United Nations action on it.

But some officials speculated that the meeting might afford a chance for the key nations on the Security Council to have private talk about ways out of the threatened impasse.

Shaken by disagreement, the council scheduled another meeting for 8:30 p. m. (3:30 p. m. Eastern Standard Time) tonight to decide formally whether Russia can invoke her veto power.

The veto issue was raised by Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet vice commissar of foreign affairs, after seven members of the 11-nation Security Council said last night in a heated debate that Russia's charges against Great Britain were unfounded.

Co-Defendant in Sugar Action Pleads Guilty

George Long, former president of Pure Rock Mineral Springs Corporation of Ellenville, pleaded guilty in Federal court in New York Monday to two indictments charging unlawful sale of 750,000 pounds of sugar and falsification of statements to the O.P.A.

Long, 41, of Chicago, was indicted by a grand jury last week along with two corporations and five individuals, including Joseph H. Forman of Kingston, Democratic county chairman, on charges involving alleged illegal sugar transactions. The charge against Long was sale of sugar to firms without O.P.A. coupons. Long was held by Federal Judge Alfred C. Cox for sentence on March 31.

Others involved in the matter have entered not guilty pleas and their hearing has been set down for February 28.

Vessel's Capacity

The ferry which is being purchased is a modern, steel boat with a capacity of 30 cars and will seat 75 passengers. It is a diesel oil powered motor job, relatively fast and considered well adapted for the local run. The boat has been in operation on the 125th street run over the Hudson river for a time but was found to be too small for that work.

Mr. Loughran said that the Bridge Authority, authorized to spend up to $250,000 for the establishment of the ferry service here, sought to have acquired in the name of the state of New York the ferry slip and ferry buildings on the east shore of the river at Rhinecliff from the Cornell Steamboat Company. This is the site used by the discontinued ferry.

Old Slips Best for Public
On the west shore the Bridge Authority after careful consideration and investigation as to various advantages, has determined that the best interests of all would be served by operating the ferry from the old slip at the foot of Hasbrouck avenue. This is quite accessible for pedestrians and the Authority considered requests for use of this site from both private interests and also a request which was made last year by the then Republican controlled Common Council as well as Alderman-at-large John J. Schwank for use of the old location. At one time the Authority considered a new site near the gas plant half way down to the mouth of the Rondout creek but, Mr. Loughran stated, the Authority felt the best interests of all would be served best by operation from the old slip site. The position of the Common Council asking a change from the new proposed site to the old site, he stated, had been given considerable thought and the request had finally been decided upon as one with considerable weight.

Democrats Were Wrong
Last fall during the election campaign there was much political material made of the matter of acquiring a ferry service for Kingston and it was charged then by Democratic leaders that the efforts to get the ferry were not sincere. Acquisition of the ferry slip sites now and the purchase of a boat indicates that the Au-

Purchase Steel Boat For River

Trips Will Start When River Clears, Minor Repairs Are Made

A ferry service will be in operation between Kingston and Rhinecliff early this spring as soon as ice conditions and the spring break-up of the river will permit, once again restoring service between the west and east shores of the Hudson river.

An early resumption of the ferry service was definitely assured, James F. Loughran a member of the New York State Bridge Authority, stated today when he told a Freeman reporter that Executive Officer William K. Haggins, both of the authority was appearing in Albany today to file with the State Superintendent of Works Charles Sells, the request of the Bridge Authority to acquire by purchase in the name of the State of New York two terminals on the river for ferry slips. The two ferry slips being acquired are those of the Cornell Steamboat Company, one at the foot of Hasbrouck avenue and the other at Rhinecliff on the east side of the river.

Locate Suitable Boat
Mr. Loughran also stated that a suitable ferry boat has also been located and negotiations were being completed for the purchase of the boat which is now in New York Harbor.

Following purchase of the ferry slips and acquisition of the ferry boat, the Bridge Authority will be in a position to put into effect ferry service as soon as a minor overhaul and painting of the new boat is completed. Mr. Loughran said it was believed that ferry service could be started at least by late spring.

243 Job Placements Filled By Local U.S.E.S. in January

George J. Stanton, manager of the Kingston office, United States Employment Service, asked this morning about the work being done in this area and what success had been achieved in placing applicants for work, said that during January 243 job placements, of which 69 were veterans, were referred to employers. Of this number 102 were placed locally, 33 of the number being veterans.

In all there were 628 completed applications for work filed at the office, 421 of them being filed by veterans.

During the month of January, 1946 different persons called at the office to apply for work or to secure information. Out of this number 905 were routed for additional service. These figures include the Ellenville area as well as Kingston.

Make Daily Contacts

In attempts to find avenues of employment, Mr. Stanton said that the U.S.E.S. office contacts daily, by phone or in person, some 32 to 35 employers. A sampling of the result of these contacts inicates that out of 12 employers contacted on February 5 the following openings were found: One veteran (labor process) at 60 cents an hour; one practical nurse, $25 a week; one salesclerk, $21 a week; one bookkeeper, $25 a week; one bookkeeper, $25 a week; one bookkeeper, $25 a week; one food packer, 55 cents per hour.

Many Jobs Refused

It was stated that many applicants, including veterans, refused jobs, claiming that the net take-home pay offered by employers is too low and they prefer to draw their unemployment insurance.

Saugerties Office

The Saugerties office reported 167 contacts during January, all of whom were given further service. Of the number 89 were veterans. Ten of the applicants, including seven veterans, were referred to employers and three of them (veterans) were placed in jobs.

Of the total number visiting the office 409 433 of them veterans. Of the 433 100 complete applications for work.

State Committee Will Hold Survey On House Problem

Joint Legislative Body Is to Determine Exact Character, Extent of Shortage

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—A joint legislative committee will conduct a statewide survey to determine the character and extent of the housing shortage.

The legislature unanimously adopted a resolution last night providing that the committee study and determine:

Veterans needs and their capacity to pay rents and other shelter costs, as well as the types of dwellings needed for their housing.

The needs of families other than veterans and their rent-paying ability.

An inventory of the existing number of dwelling units.

An estimate of the number of new dwelling units projected by public agencies and private enterprise and what obstacles may deter them.

The estimated number of families to be displaced by contemplated public works, slum clearance, urban redevelopment, private building, and other improvements and projects.

Such other information as may be considered necessary to determine housing needs and conditions so as to form the basis for further legislative recommendations.

The legislature granted the committee $15,000 to conduct its study. Formerly known as the Joint Legislative Committee to Recodify the Multiple Dwelling Law and concerned with New York city problems, the group was renamed the Committee on Housing and Multiple Dwellings with broadened power to study conditions in other large urban centers.

A report will be made by March 15 to the legislature.

Argentine Disavows Peron's Rap at U. S.

Buenos Aires, Feb. 5 (AP)—Assertions by Col. Juan D. Peron, candidate for the presidency of Argentina, that the United States was implicated in smuggling arms to his political enemies have been disavowed by the Argentine government.

The foreign office made public a reply sent yesterday to U. S. Charge D' Affairs John Cabot which said the government had no evidence to support Peron's statement. Cabot, acting on instructions from Washington had requested a public statement from the government in the matter.

"It would be improper to attribute to the government any responsibility," the foreign office said, since Peron, a former vice president, had resigned from the government and the army before making his statement and thus had "liberty of action and expression."

G.I.'s Fraternizing Openly; Would Leave Japan Pronto

By RUSSEL BRINES

Tokyo, Feb. 4 (AP)—Almost every village visited by American G.I.s in Japan has its story of the garbled shopkeeper, bowing over a humble gift offered to a soldier "in friendship."

Everywhere are Americans and Japanese girls, strolling with arms interlocked.

Fraternization no longer is a seriously debatable issue. Swift-flaring hatreds predominated in this bloody war, but after the fighting was over the Americans found it difficult to hate a people greeting them like liberators.

Today the little estrained against fraternization comes from military regulations, language, and psychological differences.

Brothels Of Units
Military rulings have placed off limits the brothels set up by Japanese opportunists seeking to capitalize upon the occupation through enslaved women. By a recent Allied decree, these women will be freed from their bondage.

There are more polite forms of fraternization, however, which rules do not prevent. Some wealthy Japanese, for instance, have given elaborate parties for American officers.

In one Tokyo district, the ward boss rounds up all available girls each Saturday night to attend a G.I. party. They arrive like children at a circus and afterward depart under strict chaperonage.

Quite often nowadays, too, former officers sit calmly with their one-time foes, each criticizing politely the other's war-time strategy.

G.I.'s Home Guests
American enlisted men sometimes have been guests in humble Japanese homes where host and guests discussed eastern and western philosophies in halting, phrase-book conversations.

And everywhere, Japanese children flock to the Americans—the openhanded dispensers of gum and candy.

There have been some fights and some smoldering resentment. But the real foundations of the occupation are courteous personal relationships.

The Japanese have found characteristics they admire in the G.I.s.

The G.I. has found a curious, sometimes charming, often ingenu people—who generally make him even more anxious to return to his own land in America.

According to Mrs. Lansing, Mich., must take a census of every winter.

Accidents Cause 96,000 Deaths in U. S. During 1945

Chicago, Feb. 5 (AP)—Accidents in the United States in 1945 cost the lives of 96,000 persons, injured 10,300,000 and the estimated economic loss was five billion, two hundred million dollars, the National Safety Council said today.

The Council said that the toll was only 1 per cent above 1944, but that the comparison was misleading "because it does not accurately depict the seriousness of the current accident problem."

(Deaths from accidents in 1945 as compared with 1944 were:

Total: 96,000, compared with 95,237, an increase of one per cent; motor vehicle: 28,500, against 24,282, up 17 per cent; home: 33,500, against 33,000, up 2 per cent; occupational: 16,000, the same as in 1944; public (not motor vehicle): 15,300, against 15,000, up 3 per cent; military personnel: 6,500, against 11,500, down 43 per cent.

The 1945 all-accident death rate was 71.6 per hundred thousand population. Only five years since 1939 had lower rates, and the lowest 68.4 for 1921—only one 4 1/2 per cent less than the 1945 rate.

Nevertheless, the Council said, one in every 13 persons in the United States suffered a disabling injury in 1945.

Deaths of children under five decreased 1 per cent in 1945, but a 4 per cent increase was recorded in accidents fatal to children in the 5-14 age group. There were 16 per cent fewer deaths in the 15-24 year group, and 1 per cent fewer for the 25-44 group. Persons 45 to 64 years old had a 7 per cent increase in deaths and older persons a 6 per cent rise.

Shortage of Feed To Affect Farms

Milk, Egg Supplies Are Bound to Be Cut

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—Declaring shortage of feed for farm animals threatens the supply of fresh milk and eggs, Governor Dewey today asked a northeastern governors' feed committee to draft a program to combat a "threatening situation."

The governor announced he had asked Dr. William I. Myers, dean of the Cornell College of Agriculture, and chairman of the committee organized in 1943, to call the group into emergency session. Dewey explained stocks of grain in the United States are six per cent less than last year, that consumption of grain through feeding of slaughter animals is increasing in the corn belt, and that northeastern farmers must reduce their flocks and herds unless "prompt steps are taken to assure proper distribution of feed ingredients to the northeast."

The Northeastern Governors' Committee represents the states of New York, Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine, Rhode Island and Maryland.

It functioned during other emergencies in obtaining and distributing feeds for farm animals in the area represented.

Uprisings in Jerusalem

Jerusalem, Feb. 5 (AP)—Armed Jews hurled two grenades today on the Safad police headquarters, a police bulletin said. An Arab sentry was wounded during an exchange of gunfire with one party. The Jews cut a hole in the perimeter fence and attacked, and when guards opened fire, they tossed a grenade and fled police said. Police discovered later that roads about Safad had been mined.

Police Have Clue In Patrol Slaying

Sandy-Haired Youth Key in Murder of Veteran Nassau Cop

Minerva, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—Searching all highways and railroad stations, Nassau County police today sought the killer of veteran patrolman John West, whose body was found in his police car after an airplane spotted the auto.

West had been shot through the chest. His revolver was missing. Officers reached the car yesterday afternoon after a police pilot said he saw it on an estate three miles from the highway where West had attempted to make an arrest.

Police Lt. Louis Schneider told this story. He saw West talking to a sandy-haired, hatless youth and four women who were in a car which West had stopped near Jericho. The patrolman said he would take the man to the station house and later West telephoned headquarters to say he would bring the man in shortly.

When he didn't arrive the search began. Police believe the women drove away when West took the youth to a telephone booth and that the patrolman, with a record of 19 years on the force, then attempted to take the man to the station in his patrol car.

MENACE OF FALSE ALARMS

With heavy traffic and slippery road conditions this winter there has been added the extra hazard of calling out the fire department in response to false alarms of fire. In five days the fire department has responded to six false alarms, three of them being turned in on a single morning.

The danger of calling out the fire department unnecessarily was plainly shown Monday when the big aerial truck and another truck were in collision at a street intersection. The fire truck was responding to a false alarm. Luckily no one was reported injured but both trucks were damaged as well as a house when one of the trucks felled a large tree that stood at the street intersection.

Every time that the fire apparatus is called for a fire it costs the city money in wear and tear on the equipment, as well as fuel used in responding. There is also the ever present danger of an accident that may cost someone his life.

The turning in of false fire alarms is a serious offense. Persons whose mentality is at such a low ebb that they can think of nothing better to do than ring a false fire alarm, are a menace to the general public.

Those apprehended should receive the limit in penalties imposed by the law.

The world is just beginning to realize the terrible price that Germany paid for her effort to conquer and brutalize the world.

BASEBALL SUCCESSION

Few great ballplayers have had sons to follow in their footsteps. The two Jim Bagbys, a quarter of a century apart, who hurled for the Cleveland Indians, are almost the only case. Now comes word of another Sisler.

George Sisler ranked with Anson, Tenney, Chase and Gehrig as among the greatest first-basemen of all time. His batting average of .420, made in 1920, is the highest in American League history. (Ty Cobb attained the same figure nine years earlier; Cobb and Sisler are the only two American Leaguers who have twice hit over .400). He might have reached even higher figures later, had not eye trouble forced his retirement from the game.

Now his son, playing with Havana, is breaking Cuban records for long-distance hitting, and will probably be tried out this spring by the St. Louis Cardinals. St. Louis fans, to whom the elder Sisler is still a hero, will be out rooting for the son, and seeing whether the laws of heredity extend to baseball.

There are hundreds of newspapers in this big country, and all different except for their American spirit.

BEN FRANKLIN'S SPIRIT

A nice bit of historical dovetailing is the story of the old London house, for 18 years the home of Benjamin Franklin, now to be the headquarters of the British Society for International Understanding. The house, old even for London, is near Trafalgar Square. It was bombed during the war, but the old panelling, the same bannisters and even some of the fireplaces improved by Franklin's inventiveness, are those Franklin knew and touched. He lived here from 1757 to 1775, attempting to put the colonists' cause to King George II. Though he failed in these efforts he had success with Lafayette when he went to France from England.

The British society plans to hang a large oil portrait of the great American in the hall. Surely in a house with such traditions much should be accomplished. May Franklin's benign spirit and his practical conceptions of internationalism aid the present occupants in their efforts at peace. For peace is still more essential for today's world than it was to that of Franklin.

RUSSO-AMERICAN RELATIONS

This much is clear: The United States has to live with Soviet Russia and the Russians have to live with us. That has nothing to do with wishes, desires or likings. We regard them as rough, uncouth, amoral, irreligious, avaricious and anti-altruistic in their attitudes toward small and backward nations. They regard us as impractical, hypocritical, backward in our social and economic theories and developments, garrulous without plan or purpose, purse-proud, exploitive.

We suspect them of vast, imperialistic intentions; they suspect us of secretly forming a Western bloc to set up a British hegemony over Europe. We seek to be the middleman between Russia and Great Britain; they prefer to eliminate Great Britain as a great power, as France has become a secondary power and Germany and Japan have been smashed. The Russians hope to establish a socialist economy pegged to their system for the entire world; we hope to re-establish free enterprise in an open market throughout the world. They fear our Dollar Diplomacy and Atomic Bomb Diplomacy; we fear their World Revolution Diplomacy.

They do not at all understand our concepts of freedom grounded in Magna Carta, the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, and the Declaration of Independence; we find their references to democracy based upon Marxism paradoxical. We believe in freedom of speech and of the press and the rights of minorities or minorities but of the individual based upon the religious concept of the dignity of man as a grace of God; they believe that the state alone is the organ for the achievement of the greatest good for the greatest number based on a combination of philosophic and scientific doctrines, stemming originally from Plato and passing through Hegel to Marx and Engels to Lenin, Plekhanov and Stalin. Ours is a Christian civilization; theirs is one based on Dialectical Materialism.

The Russians will not permit our people freely to visit their country and to have unimpeded intercourse with them because they seek to produce a homogeneity of view and attitude and to minimize discontent; we grant their people every opportunity in our land to undermine our way of life. They do not understand why we do it; they are not impressed with our arguments for freedom, particularly when the rights of the individual conflict with the options of the state. They still need tension as a domestic political instrument; we need peace.

These differences are fundamental and historical. The United States is a mature economy, living on the highest standard known to man; Soviet Russia possesses a few infant undeveloped industries and her people are on a very low standard of living. They are interested in abstracting the greatest amount of labor out of us; we are interested in getting the greatest productivity out of machines. They stimulate incentive wages which our unions oppose; their Stakhanov System in this country is called a speed-up. We speak of our people holding more than $163,000,000,000 in private savings; $28,000,000,000 in their pockets and stockpiles in cash; the Russians give theatre and opera tickets as incentives and the right to use an automobile. Americans have what they have by right; the Russians have what they have by consent of a ruling aristocracy who, rising from the people, became their masters.

All these differences make understanding difficult. In fact, it is easier for an American to understand a Chinese than a Russian and I suppose the Russians are similarly situated. Nevertheless, the two countries have day by day relations and unless they can learn to live together, they must fight each other. That is the reason for the appeasement of the Russians by Franklin D. Roosevelt and Jimmy Byrnes. Roosevelt believed that he had to appease Russia to keep her in the war; Jimmy Byrnes to keep her in the family of nations. But appeasement, like blackmail, knows no end. If a formula could be worked out by which the Russians would deal with the rest of the world on a strictly straightforward basis, with the object of maintaining the peace between us, each side recognizing that the other side fight if necessary, but that neither wants to—we might get somewhere. ## EPILEPSY

It is interesting and encouraging to see the way epilepsy is regarded today as compared with just a few years ago. Formerly an epileptic was regarded carefully in the home or worked near or about home so that if an attack occurred he would have friendly attendance and few if any others knew about it. It is only too true of course that to see an individual in an epileptic attack or fit is often a terrifying experience especially where the patient does not know it is coming on and is thus unprepared to meet it whether he may be in church, theatre, train, boat or car.

It is estimated that nearly half of epileptics are aware of the approach of an attack and get themselves settled in as safe a spot as possible. These symptoms or feelings that come just before an attack are called the aura. These symptoms may last long enough to allow the person to lie down before the attack occurs. The aura may vary with individuals, being an odd sensation in the stomach, odd taste in the mouth, or flashes before the eyes.

There are two types of seizures, one called grand or great mal and the other petit or small mal. In grand mal there is complete loss of consciousness for minutes, the body in a tight or contracted position, the breathing stopped and the face blue. In a few seconds the muscles relax but jerking of all the muscles occurs, pupils are dilated, froth at mouth, blood stained if tongue bitten. As the patient awakens he may be confused and depressed and finally drops off to sleep.

In petit mal the patient falls, the loss of consciousness is short, perhaps a matter of seconds only, there is lapse of speech, and fluttering of eyelids. He soon becomes conscious and is little or none the worse for the attack.

While there seems to be a hereditary tendency to epilepsy there is no known cause although various factors enter into bringing on an attack—certain foods, fatigue, emotional disturbances and others.

The treatment to prevent or lessen severity of attacks is (a) cut down on all liquids, (b) cut down on all starch foods, (c) increase fat foods, (d) daily dose of stramonium as prescribed by the physician.

Cabinet Posts Need Qualified Men, Not Personal Friends of President
By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 5—The Re-publican decision to fight confirmation by the Senate of some of the men named to high posts by President Truman, and the plea of the left-wing political action committee of C. I. O. background that the nomination of Edward Pauley for secretary of the Navy be withdrawn because of his connection with oil companies, bring to focus the whole problem of responsible government in America.

If the United States had a parliamentary system, Mr. Truman would have been replaced within the last few weeks because of his failures in the wage-price crisis. Also if he knew his administration might be erased from power, he would never take the chances he has taken in announcing appointments of men who can only add political handicaps and controversies to his already overburdened administration.

But Mr. Truman has three years, minus about fifteen days to serve as President of the United States. Under our rigid constitutional system, and unlike either Cauda or Cress, Britain or the American people must go along with their present administration and try to guide it for three years.

Can't Use Posts For Friends
Public opinion can be a powerful force for correction. Mr. Truman is not a stubborn or arbitrary person. He has been the mistake that his personal friends were. No man has a right to consider the government a matter for personal or political use. Mr. Truman believes in party organization. He has observed other presidents making political appointments. But there are certain places where today politics must be banned. These places are the secretaryships of State, War and Navy. Too much is at stake—the nation's faith and world peace—to toy with these portfolios.

Mr. Truman's integrity. He would not allow anyone to misuse a government post, that is, he knew about it. Government, however, is such a complex affair that it is not difficult for selfish men to mislead a president.

Chance To Be Led Astray
Mr. Truman wants to be fair. He knows what the average citizen wants out of government—a square deal and not a game of special privilege. But again it is difficult to make national policies and be sure that the crafty hand of so-called advisers doesn't lead a president astray.

Mr. Truman needs the sympathetic understanding of the whole country but mostly he needs freedom from all so-called advisers who have axes to grind either to the "left" or to the "right" or who have itching palms. What he needs, on the other hand, is a group of disinterested persons in the cabinet who can handle the routine business of government while he concentrates on a few major problems and masters each one of them the hard way. He would then find the answers a due time, and they wouldn't be far wrong. (Reproduction Rights Reserved)

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Preliminary steps that culminated in the erection of the present Broadway Theatre were taken on January 16, 1925, when Harry Lazarus, well known theatrical man who operated the Auditorium Theatre in the Y.M.C.A. here, and the Pine Hills Theatre in Albany, took title to property on Broadway and Cedar street.

The property had a Broadway frontage of 102 feet and a depth of 124 feet, while the Cedar street property had a frontage on that street of 114 feet, and a depth of 164 feet.

The Broadway property adjoining the Kingston Gas & Electric Co. property on Broadway.

There were four houses on the Cedar street property which were later torn down to make room for the theatre.

Mr. Lazarus when he took title to the property in 1925 announced he planned to erect a modern theatre on the site. It was some time later, however, before the present theatre was built. Mr. Lazarus served as its first manager.

Kingston's Chamber of Commerce was active in 1925, and at the annual meeting of the board of directors on January 13, of that year, elected Charles A. Lasher of the Kingston Gas & Electric Co. as president. Mr. Lasher succeeded John H. Gregory who had served as head of the organization during 1924.

Other officers elected were Max L. Reben and Arthur H. Wicks, added to the fire chief's salary.

The World Today

Paris, Feb. 5—Gen. Charles de Gaulle's resignation as President of France and his "retirement" present an intensely interesting political situation, for there is widespread belief among observers that the general merely intends to lie doggy until the new constitution is adopted next June, and then come out again for leadership of the republic.

Now that's not such an odd thing as it might seem at first glance. As a matter of fact, the general appears to be in process of trying to execute a grand coup of which his "retirement" is the strategic keystone. If this assumption is correct, then the reasons for following along naturally enough.

On the whole the situation is this: France's economic position is a matter of grave concern, for she has just about hit bottom. Her recovery calls for strong governmental action involving long-term policies. But these strong, long-term policies are denied to the present government by the fact that its life can run only to June, when a new constitution will be adopted and another government will come into power.

The cavalry to this is that the chance of achieving the sweeping economic betterment for which the French people are clamoring will have a far better chance to

of the present 48, hourly wage boosts from $1.10 to $1.57 and from $1.42 to $1.85 for licensed personnel. A flat $1.35 an hour was asked for unlicensed personnel to replace the present 67 to 70 cents.

The employers, who previously agreed to a 10 cents an hour rise, wanted to a five cent offer when the union rejected the higher price.

Meeting Adjourns
The strikers' meeting was adjourned without setting a date for another meeting. Bradley said the action postponed settlement of the strike for at least a week because it would take that long to call another meeting by mail as provided in the union's constitution.

Need Industrial Peace
Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—An administration decision that the nation can afford to pay some higher prices in return for industrial peace and all-out production appeared in the making today.

A high government official, who cannot be identified further, predicted the White House will issue an announcement today or tomorrow, detailing changes in the present "hold-the-line" price policy.

Although the modification will be aimed primarily at settlement of 15-day-old steel strike, this official said, its terms also will apply to other major industries involved in wage disputes.

Key figures in such revision of President Truman's wage-price orders is O.P.A. Administrator Chester Bowles, who presumably outlined his position to the President during a 50-minute conference yesterday.

Bowles, it is understood, argued for an across-the-board price change, as against "flexible" price control advocated by Reconstruction Director John W. Snyder. Bowles said Snyder reportedly was assigned by Mr. Truman to work out a steel price formula which would enable the industry to settle its wage dispute with the C.I.O.

One White House official told a reporter the reconversion director now is "inclined favorably" to Bowles' argument and that the two men seemingly have reached a working agreement.

This official, who said he expected the approaching White House announcement to represent a substantial revision of the wage-price policy, added that its net effect should not be drastic.

A shipload of five-gallon "blitz cans" of gasoline, sunk in the English channel, was undamaged when salvaged after six months.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Leading stocks continued to seek lower levels in today's market, although scattered specialties attracted support.

Dealings from the start were among the slowest of the past month. Losses of fractions to a point or more predominated near the fourth hour. Steels and motors reduced early declines.

Customers were notably cautious pending announcement of the administration's wage-price program. Lack of any real selling pressure, despite suggestions that yesterday's technical reaction might be extended, heartened bullish contingents.

On the offside most of the proceedings were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Southern Railway, N. Y. Central, Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Glenn Martin, American Water Works, Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak and American Can. Resistant were American I.C. Electrical, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Southern Pacific, and Santa Fe.

Bonds steadied. May Rye futures fell the limit of 5 cents a bushel at Chicago on word from trading in this contract might be discontinued.

Bad Duster Heading For Western Kansas

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 5 (AP)—A grimy, reddish dust storm, reminiscent of the black blizzards of the 1930's, moved into western Kansas today and reduced visibility to 200 yards in some areas.

As in the dust bowl days, cars were running with lights, and dust was swirling around windows and through windshields.

Weatherman S. D. Flora said all western Kansas probably was in for a bad duster. A strong south-west wind carried the menacing cloud.

"That red color of the dust labels it as coming from Oklahoma," Flora said, adding, "it's going to be tough on the wheat in western Kansas today."

A subcommittee to be named later will conduct the investigation. At the same time the full committee delayed action on appointment of second presidential adviser, George E. Allen, to a two-year term as a director of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

This action came as the Senate Naval Committee met to continue its hearings into the fitness of another presidential nominee, Edwin W. Pauley.

Paris Thrown in Jitters
By New Orson Welles
Paris, Feb. 5 (AP)—Paris recovered today from a radio hangover in which actors of the ether terrified the city with a too-realistic fantasy about atomic bomb experiments in the Pacific getting beyond control and "blowing the earth to pieces."

Radios in the United States caused a similar panic a few years ago with a play about an "invasion from Mars."

The Paris version was a play in news commentator style in which broadcaster Jean Noucher cautioned: "The people of the world are asked to remain calm." He asserted that explosions caused by "chain reactions" were beyond control.

Police stations and newspapers soon were deluged with calls. Parents rushed to motion picture houses to get their children before "the explosions" spread to Paris.

An unusual guest visited the Wayside Inn, Ellenville, one day last week. For some time he occupied an "outside room," in other words, alighted on the roof. One of the residents at the Inn noticed him (it might have been a "her") and called a friend to verify a conclusion as to his identity. The two finally agreed that it was a sea gull that had gotten off his course in the misty weather and headed toward the mountains. Instead of the river. Gulls are frequent visitors to the Ashokan Reservoir at some seasons of the year, it is said, but so far as known it is years since one has found his way to the Ellenville area.

Kniffin Writes Article On Employee Relations

W. H. Kniffin, formerly of Kingston, now president of the Bank of Rockville Center Trust Co., has an article in the United States Investor of February 2, on getting and giving the best in employee relation.

He finds that the question has two sides—what the bank wants of its workers; what the workers want of the bank.

The bank, he says, desires dependable workers, willing workers, cooperative among workers, contented workers, ambitious workers. On the other hand he finds the workers primarily interested in the amount of pay they take home, appreciation of good work, assurance that the job will last, that he will be secure in the future, and an understanding of the employee's problem.

Mr. Kniffin sees banks as well

Protests Against The St. Lawrence Waterway Project

A washout—especially one that would probably cost a billion dollars—is a costly catastrophe. This is the logic that should lead every clear-thinking citizen to protest, and vigorously so against the proposed St. Lawrence Waterway.

Today the Congress of the United States is again considering the project known as the St. Lawrence Waterway—a project that will undoubtedly cost a billion dollars to construct and many more millions to operate. If this could be tagged "money-well-spent," then thousands of citizens who have already protested the passage of such a measure would have wasted their time and energy; but such protests, and the thousands more that should be lodged against this "billion dollar washout," are founded on facts that are hard to deny.

If steam shovels start digging the St. Lawrence Waterway, there'll be American tax dollars in every bucket full of earth. For this project, plus the necessary deepening of lake harbors, is expected to cost a cool billion—two-thirds to be sweated out of the American taxpayers.

Worse still, a billion dollars is only an estimate! Bonneville Dam cost nearly twice as much as estimated. The Suez Canal cost two and one-half times, and the Chicago Drainage Canal three and one-half times as much as the engineers estimated!

Finally, a toll-free waterway would cost millions more tax dollars every year to operate and maintain.

So much for the financial aspect as regards the taxpayer's pocket-book. There is another important factor to be considered which is directly linked with the amount of taxes that you will be called upon to pay for this project.

That factor is labor—and labor pays a good share of the American tax bill.

Those who may favor the St. Lawrence Waterway are prone to point out that the construction and maintenance of such a project will afford many jobs; but they fail to look further and find out that many of those jobs will be temporary, and that others will be directly responsible for eliminating more positions than they will make.

First consideration might well be given to the American railroads, which probably employ more people than any other industry in the world.

The proposed St. Lawrence Waterway, a subsidized transportation, would by-pass America's tax-paying railroads. It would open the way for products of underpaid foreign labor to be brought in by foreign ships at baldest rates, cutting into the shipments of United States coal, iron, steel, and other industries which are the best customers of American railroads. At the same time, the "Billion Dollar Washout" would rob the railroads of $100,000,000 a year in freight revenue. Since about half of all railroad dollars go for wages and salaries, that would mean $50,000,000 a year less in railroad pay . . . equivalent to a lifelong layoff for some 20,000 American railroaders. In other words, to the railroads and their employees, the St. Lawrence Waterway would mean lost traffic, lost jobs, and the cost would cut into every railroad paycheck, every payday.

Three particular claims have been offered by those who favor the "Billion Dollar Washout." Let us consider them:

They maintain that American shipping would benefit from this project. Most vessels of the American Merchant Marine are too large for the proposed waterway. It would be used mainly by small tramp steamers under foreign flags. These have been described as a "scavenger type of business, which depends on low wages, low standards of food, crowded and inferior quarters for the crew, and low pay for the officers." Such shipping would run vicious competition to America's own Great Lakes fleet which worked so superbly during the war. Thus American shipping would not benefit by the St. Lawrence Waterway.

Another claim for the proposed waterway is that it would create lasting jobs. This reads well and would be an excellent factor favoring the project—if it were so! Except for construction work at the start, the St. Lawrence Waterway would destroy jobs rather than create them. Tramp ships bringing in coal and iron ore, mined at low foreign wages and carried at baldest rates, would take jobs from American miners. The huge water power electric plant which forms part of the project, would be in a region already well served by coal burning power plants. This would still further injure the mining industry—another of America's large employers of labor. Thus one might term the proposed Waterway "a permanent unemployment project," certainly an

It is the kidneys that are the danger sign of backache, leg pains, and other symptoms. appropriate answer to the assertion that said project would create jobs!

The third, and sometimes considered the best argument of those who favor the Waterway, is that it is needed for national defense. Back in 1941, before Pearl Harbor, the St. Lawrence Waterway was accorded a boost through the medium of the "St. Lawrence Survey," which concluded that the Waterway was urgently needed. Upon what did this survey base its conclusion? Namely that the American railroads, even if they stepped up efficiency and expanded their facilities, could be expected to handle only a maximum average freight movement of about 430 billion ton miles a year. So much for guesswork—let us look at the record! In 1944 these self-same railroads handled a total freight movement of more than 700 billion ton miles. That was just about 70 per cent more than the Waterway guessers thought the roads might be able to carry under ideal conditions! Does this prove support for the Waterway under the guise of defense?

The natural question in the minds of the individual citizen opposed to the "Billion Dollar Washout" is what he can do about it? The obvious answer is to tell your representatives in Congress about your feelings and ask their support in defeating the proponents of the St. Lawrence Waterway. Your Senators and your Congressman go to Washington to represent the ideas and wishes of you and your neighbors. Their daily mail is their best guide to what their voters are thinking. Here's how to urge them to vote NO.

New Bill Would Take Halter Off State Reporters

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 4 (AP)—Bills enabling newspaper men to protect their sources of information and to permit greater access to public records will be introduced tonight by Senator Thomas C. Desmond, Newburgh Republican.

The first bill would amend a state law under which a newspaper man testifying in any legal proceeding, including legislative hearings, could be cited for contempt for refusing to divulge the source of his information. The Desmond measure would guarantee to reporters the same rights of privileged communication now held generally by physicians, lawyers and clergymen.

The second bill would repeal a 1945 law which denies public access to Appellate Division records relating to the conduct or discipline of lawyers.

"Although no New York state legislative committee has ever taken action to punish a reporter who, quite properly kept anonymous his sources," Desmond said, "passage of the first of my bills will definitely remove any such possible threat."

Cites Newspaper Mission
"An important mission of newspapers is to expose official bungling or dishonesty and to focus public opinion upon inefficiency in governmental departments and institutions. Newspaper reporters must be free to relate publicly their findings without naming their sources. Otherwise those sources, fearing reprisals, may cease giving valuable information."

Desmond said laws against libel and slander offer sufficient protection to the public against possible abuses in reporting.

Commenting on his second bill, the senator declared that public access to official records and documents was essential to a free press.

"To conceal from reporters data involving the conduct of lawyers is to lessen the public usefulness of the press," he said. "Censorship of the press has no place during times of peace."

Good Taste Today

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

THE OFTEN ASKED "WHO LIGHTS WHOSE CIGARETTE?"

Two sergeants and a corporal stationed at an air station in the South, signed this letter: "Some of the boys are arguing heatedly as to who has his or her cigarette lighted first—the person in possession of the lighter or match or his companion? It seems that several months back some of us read that the person who had the light should light his own cigarette first and then his companion's—it was not polite to let the other person take the rap with the sulphur fumes. Later we heard that it was proper to light your companion's cigarette first when indoors, but when outdoors, the other way round. These arguments always lead to 'bloodshed' and no one ever really knows who is right. Please settle it once and for all."

This question rather puzzles me because I did not know that there had been matches with sulphur fumes for several decades. Even if they use them wherever you may be, the sulphur surely cannot burn for more than a moment on today's matches. Usually, when you hand a girl a cigarette, you then proffer her a light. It is also instinctively polite to offer a light to a man first, when you happen to have a light in your hand. Outdoors in a breeze, it is generally easier for each one to light his own cigarette.

Invitation Correct Even to Chapel

Dear Mrs. Post: When should one draw the line in sending engraved invitations to distant relatives and friends? In our case there are a great many more relatives and friends who can't come than there are who can. Therefore, we are being married in the chapel of our church with perhaps 50 or 60 guests at the most. However, in view of the fact that we were the circumstances different, we would have our wedding in the big church, does this make it proper to send all these absent ones formal invitations to the chapel?

Answer: Positively yes! Remember that an invitation means "we wish you could be present"; an announcement means "a marriage took place to which you were not invited."

No announcements require gifts? Send for Mrs. Post's letter, "What to Choose for a Wedding Present and When to Send It," in care of The Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a three-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Dewey, Democrats Battle Over His Education Move

Governor Wants Commission to Study Need for State University With Varied Schools

By HENRY LEADER

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—Governor Dewey and the legislature's Democrats were locked in bitter battle over his proposal that a temporary commission be created to investigate the need of a state university, including professional schools.

In a special message last night the governor recommended establishment of a 30-member commission and, in an obvious thrust at the Democratic minority, said he had not thought anyone "would seek to profane an issue of this character for partisan advantage or exploit it to the uses of divisive demagoguery."

This produced an explosion. Besides opposing a commission on the ground it would result in unnecessary delay, the Democrats took up Dewey's challenge of partisan politics and demagoguery. Democratic leader Irwin Stein-put declared that "no one, not even the governor, could charge me with stooping so low as even trying to use it (the state university) as a political question. At no time did we intend that this problem should be considered as a political question."

There is "no necessity for a commission to make any further study" of the need of a state university, Stein continued. "That is open and shut," he added. "We want action now."

Republican leader Irving M. Ives replied that it was "absolutely fundamental" to have a commission. Immediate legislation, he insisted, "would leave us utterly powerless" and at a loss as how to proceed.

Companion bills to establish a commission were introduced by Ives and Senate Majority Leader Benjamin F. Feinberg. They call for an appropriation of $100,000 and a report by next February 1. Ives said, however, the study probably would require two years.

Creation of the commission by the Republican-controlled legislature is regarded as practically certain.

The Democrats are supporting their Steingut-Mahoney bill, which provides for a state university with an initial appropriation of $50,000,000. The measure is a sequel to a report by the New York city mayor's committee on unity, which said racial and religious discrimination was being practiced in privately-endowed colleges.

Demand for college training has increased rapidly in recent years, Dewey told the legislature. "It is evident," he added, "that we may lose our high position among the states in providing higher education if we do not prepare for expansion of programs for higher education."

MacArthur Makes Final Decision in Yamashita Appeal

Tokyo, Feb. 5 (AP)—The U. S. Supreme Court's rejection of Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita's death-sentence appeal leaves final decision up to General MacArthur and confirms that "the trial of war criminals definitely is a responsibility of the military."

Allied headquarters officers, reporting these conclusions today, said that MacArthur has had the records of Yamashita's Manila trial for some days. There was no indication when he might act, and he has made no comment.

The Supreme Court held that the U. S. military trial commission proceeded legally in trying, convicting and sentencing Yamashita to the gallows for condoning wholesale war atrocities in the Philippines. Dissenting from the six-man majority decision, Justices Rutledge and Murphy termed the trial unfair and contrary to American principles of justice.

Whether defense counsel planned any further moves on Yamashita's behalf was not immediately learned. Lt. Col. Walter C. Hendrix, Atlanta, Ga., only member of the defense staff still in Manila, said only that he was "gratified" that the Supreme Court considered his client's appeal.

One of the prosecutors, Capt. William N. Calyer, Newburgh, N. Y., said he was gratified, too, because of his "labors have been successful."

Yamashita himself has been held incommunicado since the trial.

New York State Troopers have made more than 50,000 arrests on more than 80 different charges in a year, and have a record of convictions in 95 per cent of these cases.

Steingut Cleared By Colleagues of Income Charges

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—Democratic Assembly Leader Irwin Steingut stood cleared by his colleagues today of charges that he failed to account for a purported excess of $187,000 in personal expenditures over income.

The Assembly last night unanimously adopted a report of its judiciary committee refusing to investigate the charges, stemming from a Governor Dewey-ordered probe of the Legislature, on the ground the Appellate Division had found them without substantiation.

When the vote was announced the entire Assembly stood and applauded. Republican Majority Leader Irving M. Ives crossed the aisle and shook hands with Steingut.

"I am deeply gratified at the vote of confidence displayed tonight by all my colleagues, both Democrats and Republicans alike," Steingut said after the Assembly had adjourned. "I hope," he added, "that never again will any member of the Legislature or any man in public life will be subjected to this kind of an inquisition."

Last night's action closed out the special grand jury investigation of the Legislature which ran nearly two years, cost about $275,000 and resulted in three presentments urging payroll and other legislative reforms.

Kurowski, Olmo Reject Contracts; Phils Acquire Two

Dixie Walker Also Gets Slice in '46 Salary; Greenberg Expects No Trouble

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Whitey Kurowski, the St. Louis Cardinals' old thumping third baseman, and speedy Luis Olmo of the Brooklyn Dodgers are the latest players to join the big league holdout brigade.

Kurowski, who was the National League's fifth ranking batter and his club's leading batter with a .323 average last season, shot back at his unsigned contract to owner Sam Breadon yesterday remarking that the terms were anything but satisfactory.

It had been rumored ever since the last diamond campaign ended that the blond, 190-pound infielder was ticked off the Philadelphia Phils and it is known in baseball circles that he is one of a group of Redbird stars who would like to do their ball playing in different uniforms.

Olmo, who rapped out a fancy .313 average for 1945 and handled himself ably in centerfield, announced in Puerto Rico that he was dissatisfied with the terms Brooklyn offered and asserted that he would not leave for spring training until he came to an agreement with the club.

The veteran Dixie Walker, who played alongside of Olmo in the Dodger picket line, also is unhappy over the contract mailed out by Brooklyn proxy Branch Rickey; it has been learned. Dixie, who led the senior circuit with a .337 mark in 1944, slumped off to .300 last season.

Gardella Balks

The New York Giants are having trouble getting Danny Gardella, the clowning first baseman-outfielder, to sign his name to a contract while Washington's Walter Masterson is said to have rejected his original offer.

Big Hank Greenberg, the Detroit Tigers' slugging outfielder, doesn't expect to have any trouble reaching an agreement with the Tigers, although he said he had not yet received a contract from general manager George Trautman. Greenberg added that Trautman was going to mail a contract within a week.

In good shape and ready to head for the Tigers Lakeland, Fla., training camp, the former Army Air Force captain indicated he would sign for around $65,000.

Plenty of other diamond news popped up yesterday as the bulk of the major leaguers began packing for their jaunt to the sunny training grounds.

Phils Buy Two

The Phils announced the purchase of pitcher Alvin Jurisich and outfielder John Wyrostek from the St. Louis Cardinals for an undisclosed sum and also reported the signing of southpaw hurler Ken Raffensberger.

Cleveland's Indians announced the signing of 34 players.

The Braves received pitcher Johnny Huch and shortstop Dick Cullen were in the second round. Buddy Kerr, Giants' second sacker, received a test raise for his work during the last campaign.

And Cleveland's Bobby Feller said in Tampa that the New York Yankees again would be the team to beat in 1946 but that the American League race would be very close.

Racing Dates Given

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—Saratoga Raceway's 54-night harness meeting, starting June 24, will offer $250,000 in purses. Track President Frank Wiswall announced yesterday that the grand circuit session of the meeting will be held from July 29 to August 3 and will include the $7,500 championship steeplechase for three-year-old trotters.

Better Bowling

By Billy Sixty

Gripping the Ball: A woman bowler complained to me the other day that after each league series she felt a twitching pain in her hand—across the middle and upper knuckles. My first reaction, naturally, was that the grip was wrong, that the ball was improperly fitted.

But that was not the case. The span of the ball was perfect. The middle and third fingers were snug against the middle joint of the hand, and when the thumb was inserted into the hole the entire palm of the hand was flat against the ball, as the accompanying sketch shows.

In picking the ball off the rack the distressed lady inserted first her thumb and then her fingers into the holes, lifted the ball off the rack and carried it to her starting position preparatory to taking another shot.

By doing this, the back of the hand was "broken upward," the strength of the grip was nullified because the fingers were NOT then inserted up to the JOINT. The palm of the hand was raised instead of being AGAINST the ball.

The simple remedy is this: Pick the ball off the return rack with BOTH HANDS, take your stance, and at the finger (or fingers) in the holes FIRST. Thus the palm of the hand spreads across the ball, and the thumb is then inserted. It will give you a firm grip... a strong grip... the perfect grip.

Shaughnessy Goes Back to Maryland; Resigns Pitt Post

Ex-Stanford Mentor Quits on Account of His Pro Connections With Washington

Pittsburgh, Feb. 5 (AP)—Clark Daniel Shaughnessy, football's man-in-motion, has moved again—this time back to the University of Maryland—he left three years ago.

It was the fourth shift in seven years for the unpredictable grid mentor who went from Chicago in 1939 to Stanford to Maryland to Pittsburgh and now back to Maryland.

Succeeds Bryant

In his new post, he succeeds Paul (Bear) Bryant, who resigned last month to sign a five-year contract with the University of Kentucky.

Shaughnessy quit his job as head football coach at the University of Pittsburgh yesterday after a three-year stay in which his teams won 10 and lost 17.

Pitt. in announcing his resignation, said his faculty committee on athletics had recommended he be retained—provided he give up his professional football connections. This Shaughnessy refused to do.

For the past two years the tall graying coach has been listed as an advisory coach by the Washington Redskins. Prior to that he served in a similar capacity with the Chicago Bears.

"The best strategy, tactics and execution of football fundamentals are found in pro football and that is the school of which all football coaches who hope to keep abreast of the times should take advantage," Shaughnessy declared in a letter outlining his views which he said he sent to the committee three weeks ago. At the time the letter was written, he emphasized, he had "every intention" of remaining at Pitt.

Kearns City—Robert Shank, 181, Denver, and Roy Miller, 184½, drew, (18).

MAIL TO THE CHAMPS!

The champ has done it again! Rose Schatzel's 1665 blast in the all-events produced her second straight K.W.B.A. city title and won for her one of Mayor Edgemuth's cups. . . . Peggy Rosinski and Ruth Coons, not generally ruled among the "big timers" snared trophies. . . . Ruth, a 100 average bowler, rolled most pins over her average with a 220, while Peggy's 211 was good for high individual single. . . . Mayorettes and Phelan-Cahill tied in the team event at 2473. . . . The tournament was split in two sections, gross totals and net totals. . . . In the gross department, the O'Donnell girls, who threaten to become the Dolly Sisters of bowling, batted out 1031 to win the double crown. . . . Marie kept right on to pile up 613 to cop the singles title. . . . Kay Robertson was not far behind with 603.

Flotsam and Jetsam

Jones Dan-Etzel posted neat totals of 984 and 2582 in the Colonial Ladies Inv. . . . Mike Provenzano, of D.A.W.K.'s, achieved a real rarity in the Mid-Season League with progressive scores of 160-161-162. . . . It's as rare as three identical totals in one line. . . . The army apparently did wonders for Johnny Schatzel's bowling. . . . Ed Cunningham and Ben Toffe, 225, Steve Woyden 230, Charlie Rable, old City League ace, 208, Joe Nerone 220 and A. Aiello 212. . . . Mike Mulqueen, dapper Walden star, was drinking it off at The Barn Saturday night, after a horrendous 417 against Van Kleeck's. . . . Mother told us there would be nights like that. . . . Saw Walt May, gentleman-bowler of another era, Saturday night. . . . Whatever became of Tom Morrissey and his sweeping hook ball?

CASTELLANO ROUTS CASSIO IN NEW YORK CLASSIC

Graz Castellano, who toured these parts with Willie Taylor a few years ago, handed Marty Cassio, Eastern match game champion, a surprise shellacking in the World-Telegram Classic Sunday. . . . Battling for first place in the East's premiere individual test, Graz hung up a 242 pin average for eight games. . . . He opened with two misses, poured in 17 straight strikes and 26 out of 30. . . . His scores: 256, 276, 244, 246, 244, 247, 235, 204. . . . Cassio salvaging only half a point (allied 225, 245, 177, 236, 203, 198, 191 and 201. . . . Castellano has averaged 215 for 94 games for the individual classic.

Cuccinello, Savage Appear At 'Y' Program Wednesday

Ex-Giant and Present Yank Infielder to Speak at Gala Baseball Show

Local baseball fans who attend the informal "Baseball Night" program scheduled for tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at the Y.M.C.A. will see at least two big league ball players, Fred Davi told The Freeman late this morning. Following a week-end of confabulations with players at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York city, Davi finally managed to secure Al Cuccinello and Don Savage for the program tomorrow.

Cuccinello will come to Kingston as no stranger. In pre-war days, the young infielder played a lot of good baseball for the semi-pro Bushwicks and before that was up with the New York Giants of the National League. Savage is from Bloomfield, N. J., and is listed as the regular New York Yankee third baseman.

Stirnweiss May Come

During the Baseball Writers' dinner at the Waldorf Sunday, Davi, who is well-known to Kingston baseball fans, had conferences with several other big league players and attempted to procure them for the big baseball night at the "Y." However, he is presently getting ready to shove off for the south and their spring training camps. "George Stirnweiss may still be up there Wednesday night," Davi said this morning. "It all depends on whether he signs his contract with the Yanks," he continued. "If Stirnweiss doesn't sign today or tomorrow he'll be with us at the program, but if he does come to terms, he'll have to leave for the south early Thursday morning which would keno his trip to Kingston, the former Kingston baseball manager added.

Winners of last year's City Park League and the City League will be individually honored at Wednesday's session when each player will be awarded trophies. The champs of the Park League, Louhrigan Park, include Bill Glaser, captain; George Glaser, Richard Dulin, William Crosby, Ronald Boyce, Bob Gorshine, Jack Osterander, Frank Eberhauser, Leo Bechtold, Frank Embee and Jack Campbell.

In the City League class, players of the American Legion club, champs of that circuit, will get individual awards. Players on this club include Manager Jim Prelegh, Jimmy Tuley, captain; Paul Mison, Tom Spada, Ed Musianus, "Bing" Van Eeten, Charlie Rock, Joe Benjamin, "Sonny" Barnes, Bill Thomas, Bob Gorshine and Bob Ritzinger.

Davi also had confabs with Tommy Holm, great outfielder of the Boston Braves, and Tommy Brown, young infielder of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Holmes is scheduled to appear in Boston tonight at a dinner and will come to Kingston presiding he can make the necessary arrangements. Davi informed The Freeman sports department.

Team Seeks Gamers

The West Point Post basketball team is seeking gamers with all leading sports clubs of this area. Teams interested are requested to contact Sgt. Joe Ayler, Special Service Office at West Point.

Barolo-Pep Sign For Feather Crown

Pep Holds Two Wins Over Boston Boxer

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—The confused featherweight title situation is going to be cleaned up in Madison Square Garden March 1 and before that blustery month is over boxing will be back on a one champion for each division basis again.

With Ike Williams, the N.B.A. champion, and Bob Montgomery, the New York titleholder, already contracted to straighten out the lightweight middle in the Garden March 22, promoter Mike Jacobs yesterday announced that he had signed Sal Barolo of Boston and Willie Pep of Hartford, Conn., the rival claimants to the featherweight throne, for a 15-round title scarp March 1.

Pep, recognized as 126-pound champion in New York and Connecticut, defeated Barolo twice before the Bostonian took over the N.B.A. crown from Phil Terranova in 1944.

Corbett Will Speak

In addition to the personal appearances of Al Cuccinello and Don Savage tomorrow evening, L. Ed. Bernard "Bud" Culligan, will be on hand to deliver a few words on hand for the program.

Rivalry Between Two Schools Presages Hard Fought Tilt; Starts 8:15 P.M.

A close, hard game is what local basketball fans can look for tonight at the municipal auditorium when Kingston High's high flying quintet goes up against a strong Poughkeepsie team.

Game time is 8:15 o'clock, with the Maroon jayvee squad opposing a local team in the prelude which will get under way at 7 o'clock.

Although this is not a DUSO contest, the Maroon and White places a lot of importance on tonight's game since a great rivalry exists between the two schools. Poughkeepsie defeated the Maroons 47-40 in a January contest on the Dutchess county court, which gives the forces of Coach G. Warren Klus an incentive to avenge this previous setback.

Tonight's contest will pit two different types of offense against each other. A pair of set-shot artists, Eddie Moran and Bobby McKenna, are Coach Sam Kallio's main point guards, while the big three of the Maroon five, Eddie Weaver, Tony Albany and Bob Murray, have been tossing most of the points through the hoop for the Klusmen.

The Kingston trio employs pass-work and speed to get one another in the open, as their main method of scoring, although they occasionally resort to the set-shot. However, the Poughkeepsie scoring pair make most of their losses on the long shot varying with the fast break.

The Maroon scoring attack was handicapped for space in the small Poughkeepsie High gym when these two clubs clashed before, while the Blue dust had the show almost to themselves. However, the Maroon high three feel that they will be able to outscore the Klusmen on the expansive auditorium boards.

Both squads possess a good pair of guards which puts the opponents on a more even keel. The Blue backcourt men, Joe Havens and George Luckey, and Kingston's defenders, Bob Miller and Len Slicker who have been alternating with Bob Chear, have proven themselves capable defenders, which will aid, or hinder, as the case may be, the attack of the opposing sides.

Tonight's contest opens a long home stand for the Klusmen which sees them face Port Jervis, Arlington, Monticello and Newburgh on the Broadway boards in that order. Next on the list is Port Jervis which is scheduled for a DUSO contest on the auditorium court Friday night.

Reschedule Ski Meet

The Norsenmen Ski Club of New York will make its second attempt this season to sponsor the revived New York state ski jumping championship on its Schunemunk Mountain slopes in Salisbury Mills February 10, it was announced today by President Jarne Langseth. The event, last held January 23, 1942, was originally canceled for the Norsenmen Hill January 27, but lack of sufficient snow prevented it from going on as scheduled.

Impressive Victory

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Holman Williams, the highly rated Detroit middleweight, made good on his advance notices here with an impressive knockout victory over Aaron (Tiger) Wade of Los Angeles. Williams dropped Wade for nine-counts twice and then put his rival away for keeps in 2:28 of the fourth round of their scheduled 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena last night. Williams was outweighted, 161½ to 163½.

Heller Is Demoted

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Otto Heller, veteran of 14 National Hockey League campaigns, is the latest New York Ranger player to be shipped to the minors by Coach Frank Boucher. The husky, 35-year-old defenseman became the fourth Ranger in several days to be demoted when he was optioned to the St. Paul Saints of the U. S. Hockey League last night. The last place Rangers are virtually eliminated from the N.H.L. playoff race and Boucher is making room in order to get a look at some promising rookies.

Eight Are Arrested For Using Vets As Sales Front

New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Eight men and a woman appeared in police lineup today on charges of larceny by false pretenses in connection with promotion of a magazine which claimed its net receipts were turned over to wounded veterans.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said those arrested were participants in a "particularly contemptible species of fraud" which yielded them $23,670 since last September 19 through telephoned solicitations. He said funds were kept as profit.

"These people exploited public sympathy and admiration for wounded veterans of the war," Hogan said.

The district attorney added that the arrested group promoted the magazine, called "Army and Navy Hospital Visitors," by using the name of Gen. Carl Spaatz and other army and navy officials and by attempting to cloak their operations with respectability by the use of veterans' groups as sponsors.

Hogan said the group obtained permission from the American Veterans of World War 2 in connection with the project. Later the veterans group withdrew its sponsorship but the publishers continued to use the organization's name, Hogan said.

He declared that the publishers also went to the Veterans Political Committee of America, Inc., and agreed to pay the group $100 a month for use of the name, which they changed to "Veterans Committee of America" and billed as "one of the largest groups of World War 2 veterans in the country." The committee has 350 members, the attorney added.

Hogan quoted the committee's national chairman, Ralph T. Morgan, a former marine captain, as saying his organization was "the unwitting dupes" of the publishers.

Those arrested were identified by Hogan as: William S. Orkin, 51; A. Armand Durand, 63; Herbert August Burdett, 54; Louis Godfrey, 51; Louis W. Sterns, 52; Bernard Leroy Burman, 42; John P. Duane, 43; John F. Horsfield, 44, and Mrs. Mildred Allen, 53. All are New Yorkers except Horsfield, who lives in Pelham, N. Y.

Hogan said Durand, Burdett and Godfrey previously had been sentenced to prison terms.

Ran Under King's Grant
It appears that the first ferry service was operated at this site under grant of the King of England in 1752, the ferry operating at that time from a site near Kingston Point. At that time the charter placed a tariff of a shilling per passenger as the charge to be made and for many years the pedestrian paid 12c to cross the river. This charge later was reduced when bridges at Poughkeepsie and Catskill were erected and put in operation and ferry charges along the river were consequently dropped to meet competition.

Members of the New York State Bridge Authority are Robert H. of Poughkeepsie, chairman; Dr. John L. Edwards of Hudson and

Rhinecliff Ferry Will Be Restored

thority has been sincere in its efforts to begin the service here.

Because of the war conditions existing even after the collapse of Germany and Japan, the Authority had difficulty in securing a boat which could be released at this time. Boats were investigated at various places, found either not suited to local conditions or they could not be released at an early date. The boat which is now being acquired is a duplicate of the ferry which was located in Virginia some time ago but which could not be released at an early date and negotiations finally had to be dropped.

Wicks Took Action
Operation of the Kingston-Rhinecliff ferry was suspended during the war when the private company which was operating the time found it was being operated at considerable loss. Gasoline rationing and lack of patronage caused the service to be discontinued. Local people who used the ferry and business people immediately started a move to re-establish the service. Senator Arthur H. Wicks gave his support in the move and introduced a bill calling for establishment of a ferry service under authority of the New York State Bridge Authority and finally a fund was set aside and the Authority given the power to operate such ferry service.

Favors State Employees
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—A bill to extend to state employees the provisions of the Unemployment Insurance Law was introduced today by Senator Seymour Halpern, Queens Republican. State employees who lose their jobs have the same need of unemployment insurance as do employees in private industry, Halpern said.

James F. Loughran of Kingston, William K. Hagginsbotham is the executive officer of the Authority.

Report on Hyde Park
Regarding the proposed Hyde Park site the report of the site committee said:

"This area is situated on a beautiful strip of the eastern bank of the Hudson river, with a view of the Catskill Mountains in the distance. Ocean-going vessels can come up the Hudson river, and it might be possible for the United Nations to have their own port in the territory. The district is apt to be rather hot in the summer. The nearest city is Poughkeepsie, about six miles away, with a population of about 40,000. It is the home of Vassar College, and provides good shopping facilities for a town of its size. The distance to New York is about 80 miles, and the journey takes about two and one-half hours by road and one hour, 50 minutes by train from Poughkeepsie. The area does not, however, lend itself very easily to the building of a city inasmuch as there is only one strip of land which lends itself to city planning."

"A material factor is the close association of this area with President Roosevelt. This association is greatly welcomed in certain American quarters and arouses just as much strong opposition in others. The former favor Hyde Park as the site, while the latter object to the linking of the headquarters with the name of the late president or indeed with any other individual."

Weather Forecast
New York, Feb. 5 (AP)—Weather forecast for middle Atlantic states, eastern and central New York, tomorrow through Saturday inclusive: Temperatures will average above normal with rising trend ahead, falling briefly during middle of period. Light rain with local showers in southern half beginning of period and again at middle of period. Light rain or snow near northern half near middle and again near end of period. Normals eastern and central New York, 23 degrees.

Civil Service Reverts
Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—President Truman today ordered the Civil Service appointment system shifted from a wartime to a peacetime basis. This provides for immediate discontinuance of war service appointments in the federal government which, generally speaking, have been the only kind made in the civilian federal service since March 16, 1942.

Falange Controls Press

Charge Mihailovic Was In Cahoots With Nazis

Nuernberg, Germany, Feb. 5 (AP)—Russian prosecutors are preparing evidence for the international tribunal which they say will substantiate Soviet assertions that Gen. Draja Mihailovic, leader of the Chetniks and King Peter's Yugoslav war minister, actually was working with the Germans as early as 1941.

Mihailovic is a fugitive from the forces of Marshal Tito, premier of the newly-established Yugoslav Republic. Informants close to the Russians said they would attempt to show the tribunal that Mihailovic used Allied arms and money to help the Germans and to crush "authentic" partisan movements. These sources said the evidence included documents indicating that Peter's exiled government in London sanctioned the Alleged duplicity.

Sitdown in Mexico
Mexico City, Feb. 5 (AP)—More than a million persons stopped work today throughout Mexico in an "anti-Fascist" demonstration ordered by the Mexican Labor Confederation (C.T.M.). C.T.M. reported that the work stoppage took effect at 9 a. m. (C.S.T.) in all states, two hours ahead of the pre-announced starting time, and that the sitdown would begin at noon in Mexico City. The idle period will last four hours in states and one hour in the capital. Union officials reported that 1,250,000 workers were participating in the demonstration, which is being staged in connection with the nation's observance of Constitution Day.

Tribunal Rejects Bid To Expunge Testimony
Nuernberg, Feb. 5 (AP)—The international military tribunal rejected today a motion by counsel for the German General Staff to expunge testimony relative to destruction of the Louvain library and massacre of civilians in the Ardennes offensive on the ground that it was "hearsay."

"Production of such testimony does not lead to discovery of the truth," Attorney Hans Laternser protested in demanding that it be stricken from the trial record.

French assistant prosecutor Edgar Faure, who presented Prof. Leon Van Der Essen, a Belgian university historian, as a witness yesterday, told the court the professor was a member of the official Belgian War Crimes Commission and that his statements were based on facts uncovered by investigation.

Faure said he would willingly supply the German defense attorney with the affidavits of Belgian eye witnesses describing the massacre of 140 civilians at Stavelot by SS Panzer troops, which Van Der Essen related yesterday.

Laternser particularly objected to the opinion expressed by Van Der Essen that "as a historian, I am convinced there existed an overall plan for atrocities in the Rundstedt offensive."

Want One Plate
Albany, N. Y., Feb. 5 (AP)—The Citizens Public Expenditure Survey suggested today a saving of $129,693 in Governor Dewey's $559,000,000 budget through continued use of only one license plate for motor vehicles in 1947. The survey, a private taxpayers organization pointed to the $129,693 tent in the budget to provide for two plates next year.

Youth Center Open
The Youth Center at the Y.M.C.A. will be open this evening and Friday evening, following the high school basketball games here. This is a busy week at the association, with a number of activities planned for each night.

Heavy Storms Hamper Removal of Passengers From Wrecked Ship
Seattle, Feb. 5 (AP)—Rescue efforts, hampered by a heavy storm, were reported underway today in an effort to remove safely several hundred passengers still stranded aboard the wrecked steamship Yukon.

Coast Guard headquarters reported that at daylight the bow section of the broken Yukon, which ran aground in Johnstone Bay yesterday, was still firmly on the rocks, and that all the survivors were believed to be aboard that part.

The cutter Cedar was reported by the Coast Guard to be attempting the removal of passengers from the Yukon while other vessels were standing by in the gradually subsiding seas awaiting their turn at rescue attempts.

Coast Guard authorities said Ketchikan headquarters was optimistic that all of the approximately 500 aboard the broken vessel would be saved.

Commanders Framed Capt. Safford Charges
By J. W. DAVIS
Washington, Feb. 5 (AP)—Naval Captain L. F. Safford said today he, acted without the knowledge of Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel in undertaking a campaign to clear Kimmel of responsibility for the Pearl Harbor disaster.

"Admiral Kimmel did not know I was doing this," Safford told the Senate House Committee investigating the Japanese attack which caught Pearl Harbor by surprise December 7, 1941. Kimmel was commander of the Pacific fleet at the time.

Safford said he went to New York and saw Kimmel in mid-February, 1944. This was one month after he wrote a code letter to Capt. Alvin D. Kimmel, saying that no one in the Washington naval high command could be trusted and that Kimmel and the 1941 army commander in Hawaii, Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, had been framed.

What a Pleasure!
Melbourne, Feb. 5 (AP)—Volunteer army riflemen will execute Japanese war criminals sentenced by Australian tribunals to death. A spokesman at Australian army headquarters said that most and probably all of such Japanese would be shot, since hanging is repugnant to the commanders who will execute the sentences. The first execution probably will not take place before February 23, he said.
